OFFICE LEASE AGREEMENT

Agreement reference DEMO LEASE 06

1 Purpose and building arrangements

This instrument records the conditions on which the office accommodation described in the commercial provisions is to be occupied. The contracting companies, location, lease period and recurring rent are identified in Section 5. Operational arrangements in this part apply throughout the occupation and continue during any agreed handover period.

2 Repairs and alterations

The occupier is responsible for routine internal care, replacing consumables and keeping work areas clear. Structural repairs, exterior walls and shared installations remain the owner’s responsibility. A defect must be reported with a description of its location and effect. Temporary measures may be arranged to prevent further damage, but no structural work may begin without written approval. Approval of a layout does not amount to acceptance of responsibility for the occupier’s equipment.

Before fitting partitions, cabling or additional locks, the occupier must provide drawings and a proposed work schedule. Contractors must protect common areas, remove waste and avoid disturbing neighbouring offices. Works that create noise should take place during agreed access windows. The parties will retain a handover record showing existing wear, installed fixtures and any outstanding remedial work.

3 Insurance and incident reporting

Each party will maintain insurance appropriate to its own property and activities. The occupier insures computers, furniture and other contents; the owner arranges cover for the building. Neither party promises that the other party’s belongings are covered by its policy. Water leaks, fire alarms, accidental damage and security incidents must be reported promptly, with reasonable steps taken to protect people and limit further loss.

4 Parking and shared facilities

Parking is limited to designated bays and does not include a right to store goods or leave unregistered vehicles. Delivery vehicles may stop only while loading or unloading. Shared meeting areas must be booked in advance and left ready for the next user. Corridors, emergency exits and access to safety equipment must remain unobstructed at all times. Visitors must follow the building’s entry procedure and be accompanied where required.

Commercial and operational provisions

5 Parties premises and term

The Landlord is Elvarune Property AS. The Tenant is Koventri Solutions AS. The Landlord lets to the Tenant the office premises at 128 Mistquartz Boulevard, East Wing, Asterholt, Fictional District. The letting covers the east-wing office suite together with non-exclusive access to shared facilities. The lease starts on 1 November 2026 and ends on 31 October 2031; continued occupation after that date requires a separate written agreement.

6 Monthly rent and annual review

The monthly base rent is SEK 46,800. The currency of payment is Swedish kronor. Rent is payable in advance on the fifth calendar day of each month. Utilities, parking and applicable taxes are invoiced separately and are not part of the stated base rent. The monthly base rent increases by 2.75% each year on the anniversary of the start date, calculated on the base rent then payable. The first increase falls on 1 November 2027.

7 Service charges and invoices

The Landlord will issue an itemised statement for shared building services. Charges may include heating, common-area cleaning and waste collection. A disputed service item must be identified in writing with a brief explanation; the parties will review the supporting records. An adjustment to a service charge does not change the base rent or its annual review mechanism. Any credit will be shown separately on a subsequent invoice.

8 Maintenance visits and emergency access

Planned maintenance visits should be arranged with reasonable notice and coordinated with the Tenant’s normal office hours. The Tenant will identify a person able to arrange access. Where urgent entry is needed to address a leak, fire risk or electrical fault, the Landlord may enter without waiting for routine confirmation and will record the reason for entry afterwards. Maintenance personnel must leave the working area secure.

9 Return of premises and agreement changes

At expiry, the Tenant will remove its movable property, return access devices and complete a joint condition review. Normal wear is accepted; damage beyond normal wear must be discussed and recorded. Neither an informal conversation nor a maintenance request changes the commercial provisions. Any amendment must identify the provision being changed and be approved in writing by both companies.
